November 29, 1922. Continuing on the above matter, Operative located in the Middlesex Lunchroom at about 8.30 a.m.

While in conversation with Danny Kenny at the railroad station, he informed Operative that one of the Detectives there told him that the reason why the Grand Jury did not indict Mrs. Hall, was because Mrs. Hall had lied. Furthermore, that when Mrs. Gibson was in the Jury Room, she was asked if she knew anyone in the Court, and Mrs. Gibson answered, "Yes, I know several of the people out there." Mrs. Gibson was then asked, did she know that Mrs. Hall was in Court, and Mrs. Gibson is supposed to have said, "No." Then it would seem that the Grand Jury informed Mrs. Gibson that Mrs. Hall was in Court, and indicated to her (Gibson) where Mrs. Hall was seated. To the above, Mrs. Gibson was understood to have said, "I did not recognize her." It would seem that one of the Grand Jury said to Mrs. Gibson, "You are not sure that that is the woman you saw that night?" To which Mrs. Gibson replied "No."

Danny Kenny further informed Operative, that one of the Reporters told him that Mrs. Hall was getting ready to take a trip abroad.

Operative remained about the railroad station until 9 p.m., and then joined Mr. DeM., and with Mr. DeM. boarded a train for New York City, and discontinued.
